"Wim, Wigor And Witality" Produce Results As Rams Respond To Coaches

By JACK McCASKILL
Sports Editor

Only one week remains before the Belle Glade Rams set for the 1955 football season in motion when they meet Ft. Myers on Friday, Sept. 23.

The coaching staff has spent the major part of the week sharpening up various phases of attack and defense. Several hard scrimmages have been held and the boys have stood up well under the heat of the sun.

The squad suffered a very heavy blow this week when it lost the services of Johnny Miller, probably the most experienced and aggressive lineman in this area. The loss of Miller came as a result of disciplinary action which indicates that the coaching staff means business this year.

Coach Penock has expressed some satisfaction in the improved passing of Wayne Bair and the pass receiving of Earl Armstrong and John Paul Jones, but feels that much more work must be done before the ground attack can function consistently. Coach Ouellette appears to be fairly pleased with the defensive work of the line but is not particularly happy with the offensive blocking.

A newcomer to the squad who will help solve the left halfback situation is Kenneth Perkins. He has shown good ball carrying possibilities and is hitting hard on defense. At his present rate of improvement Kenneth will either make the halfback position or make a halfback out of somebody.

It is the general opinion of several who have watched daily practices that the overall attitude and spirit of the squad is much better than last year. With keen competition for nearly every position the 1955 Rams should have a better winning column than in 1954.

B. M. Stewart Speaks To ELUA Thursday

B. M. Stewart, district manager of Independent Life Insurance Co., Ft. Lauderdale, was the guest speaker at the dinner meeting of the Everglades Life Underwriters Assn., Thursday.

He spoke on the industrial insurance for debit men, overlooking a pot of gold in the house next door.

Mr. Stewart has made quite a record for himself as manager, starting with weekly debit of $3,000 and in one year increasing to $4,600.

Other guests attend the meeting were J. W. Westbury, assistant manager of Independent Life, Ft. Lauderdale and Junius Harris, treasurer of Seminole Life Insurance, Belle Glade.

Attendance at this meeting exceeded all expectations. Thirty members were present. Members are cordially invited to attend the next meeting and are requested to bring a guest, whether a member or not. Speaker for next month will be Mr. Bates of Gulf Life Ins.

DR. SALVADOR WILLIAMS

has opened an office for the general practice of medicine in the offices formerly used by Dr. Baxt on Southwest Third Street.

Dr. Williams, a native of Mexico is a graduate of the National Polytechnic Institute of Mexico and has served internships and general residencies in various American hospitals, among which is St. Mary's of West Palm Beach.

Dr. Williams will divide his time between his office and his Pahokee office.

BELLE GLADE'S NATURAL AMPHITHEATER FOR WATER SPORTS is scene of accomplished Skiing exhibitions by local talent. Nature, Uncle Samuel, The I. I. Board, the Port of Palm Beach and the City Fathers of Belle Glade have combined to give this community an amphitheater for water sports and boating that is unmatched. All of this was a happenstance so far as this particular use is concerned. When Uncle Samuel built the dike to prevent the angry Okeechobee from spilling public usage and the Port of Palm Beach built the dock, a facility was added with the aid of the City Fathers; when the State and County built the high bridge over the canal, access to the docks of the Port of Belle Glade was assured, and a vast stage grandstand was created. The west side of the government dike affords parking and seating capacity for huge crowds of spectators, and the dock and other land adds to this viewing stand. Belle Glade's youngsters—the college and high school set—put on a show that Cypress Gardens wouldn't frown at, and the several hundred visitors thoroughly enjoyed it. They were surprised at the accomplishment of their youngsters. More than two score motor boats scooted around with a professional jump by Ralph Prescott, Lynn Corbin is clowning with a chair on a 45 in a skillful balancing act. Sherry Mixon (right) demonstrates the slalom ciss-cross.

Football Jamboree Highly Successful

The Lion's Club Annual Football Jamboree and Clinic staged at Pahokee last Friday night has been pronounced successful, both from a financial and spectator-interest standpoint, when more than 500 fans gathered to witness the efforts of Glades Lions — Clewiston, Pahokee, Canal Point and Belle Glade.

Two Belle Glade boys, Wayne Bair and Leon Burkett gave a sharp demonstration individually while the Rams demonstrated various defensive formations.

Bair heaved the longest pass—33 yards—and Burkett left some of the Glades' swiftest sprinters studying the seat of his pants in a sprinting contest. Fans pronounced the overall show by individuals, officials and teams to be far by the best of the annual programs.

All high schools of the Glades will participate in an annual banquet to be held during the season and the proceeds of the clinic will go to that purpose.

The Committee is to be constituted on using an educational performance participated in by the officials and players to entertain the players—it's a demonstration of self-help and entertainment to both participants and spectators and each appreciating what is done by the other.

Power Of The Press And The Integrity Of County Officials

Two Glades newspapers last week published stories concerning the abortive attempt of the Glades County Commissioner to vent his own disfavor on Glades citizens, their children, indigent sick and particularly the wife of a long-time resident.

In the course of prescribed procedure the County Health Officer appointed Mrs. E. A. Jensen as nurse for the Belle Glade area and asked the County Commissioner's approval, a normal procedure, and had the lady on duty for approximately two days.

When THE HERALD and the other Glades newspaper began making inquiry from the Chairman of the County Commission about the case, other members (Continued on Page Eight)

Securing Our First Fire Department Emphasizes Glades Pioneering Spirit

Following the disastrous fire in 1930 which destroyed three business houses on Main Street there was considerable sentiment in favor of obtaining some kind of fire fighting apparatus. The main obstacle was the fact that the town was new, very small, growing fast, and needed many improvements, yet there was almost no money available with which to pay for them.

The only full time city employee was the town marshal, who was expected to bring in enough revenue from his arrests to pay his salary. The town clerk worked on a part-time basis. Mayor and city council served without any remuneration. Street improvement was assessed against the property owners. The two blocks on Main Street and two blocks on Avenue A from their intersection were paved full width and with curbs, gutters and sidewalks. Each abutting property owner paid for his sidewalk and curb and one third of the street.

Payment for the third down the middle was assumed by the town. The town and each owner (Continued on Page 3)

High School Band Largest In Years Ready For Season

With an over-all membership that exceeds any figure in recent years, the Belle Glade High School Band will field a select fifty piece marching band this season. The marchers have been picked from a general membership of sixty-six, which includes both musicians and twirlers.

Along with the band will go the newly formed Color Guard. Ram Twirling Corps, headed by pretty Jamie Steele, head majorette for the 1955-56 season. The corps, which will consist of eight precision twirlers and the head majorette, will perform at all outdoor functions and games in which the band participates.

Majorettes are as follows: Sandra Ames, Neil Killough, Esther Bailey, Cline Faulk, Jackie Amedee, Paula Parson, Kay Rivers, Molly Forsee, and Sherry Mixon, one of which will be a substitute. Band officers this year are: Captain, Frances Sloan; Second Lt. Jeanne Willets, and Second Lt. Jamie Steele.

Leonard Higbee will lead the whole group in his new capacity as Drum Major. Higbee, who is currently 6'4" and still growing, plans to be looked up by his charges. In order to insure it, he will don an additional foot and a half's worth of hat in the form of shako and plume.

As to the success of this year's band, Bandmaster John Mantov, says, "This is a transition year for us. It has been a tremendous struggle for these youngsters to perform adequately under the conditions which have been faced, especially by their lack of experience and maturity. Our program has been completely reconstructed from top to bottom starting at the bottom, and this year's experience should complete the necessary job."

This season, we will move up in our thinking, increasing the scope of our experiences and activities. We are already thinking about next year. That is the year we will come into our own as a high school band. We don't think we are on just a good band. We will be satisfied with nothing less than an outstanding group capable of competition with the very best."

Local Youth Attends Freshman Camp In Va.

H. Lee Bradstock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Bradstock, Belle Glade, is among 265 Washington and Lee University freshmen attending the 24th annual Freshman Camp at near-by Natural Bridge, Va., Sept. 14-18.

During the three-day outing, new students will be acquainted with university life through talks and demonstrations by a staff of student and faculty counselors. Freshmen also have a chance to become acquainted with each other before being swept into the swift pace of registration and opening classes.

The camp is under the direction of Dean of Students, Frank J. Gilliam, who helped plan the first outing nearly 30 years ago. Except for the war years, Freshman Camp has been an integral part of Washington and Lee's freshman orientation program.

Swimming, team sports, and other athletic events are included in the recreational activities. The Washington and Lee coaching staff directs this phase of the program.

While at Natural Bridge, each camper wears a large name tag. On the last afternoon of camp, a contest is held in which each camper has an opportunity to win a prize. The winner receives a handsome prize with lesser awards going to some 20 runners-up.

NOTHING IN ITS FIELD CAN MATCH CHEVROLET FOR ACCELERATION!

Drive with care... EVERYWHERE!

Great Feature back up Chevrolet Performance: Anti-Dive Braking—Ball-Race Steering—Out-rigger Rear Springs—Body by Fisher—12-Volt Electrical System—Nine Engine-Drive Choices.

When you need a quick sprint for safer passing, this V8 delivers!

It's pure dynamite, and you have to go way, way up the price ladder before you ever find its equal.

Chevrolet's new "Turbo-Fire V8" packs a Sunday punch for safer passing than no car in Chevrolet's field can match!

The proof was burned into the sands of Daytona Beach at the NASCAR® trials earlier this year. In acceleration tests, Chevrolet simply walked away from everything else in its field. Plus—and get this—all the high-priced cars except one!

Surprising? Not when you consider that this beauty's been cleaning up on all corners in short track stock car events this season. That's where acceleration really pays off, as well as handling ease and cornering ability—things that mean safer, happier highway driving. Come on in and let a new Chevrolet show you what we mean.

Financial Responsibility Law 'Tough' Says Larson

Florida motor vehicle owners and operators were told this week by J. Edwin Larson, State Treasurer and Insurance Commissioner, that they will be subject to "the most complete economic accountability for irresponsible and unsafe driving" they have ever known, when the State's new Financial Responsibility Law becomes effective on Oct. 1.

Mr. Larson, who is administrator of the law, explained its most important provisions and how they strongly differ from those of the present law, in a radio address that was heard throughout the State. It was the first complete public explanation of the new law since its enactment by the Legislature last June.

Key points made by Mr. Larson were these:

1. The owner or operator of every motor vehicle involved in an accident resulting in the death or injury of a person, or property damage totaling $50, must furnish proof of ability to meet damage claims up to $25,000 within 30 days after receipt of the Department of Public Safety. The maximum proof required under the present law, which expires on Oct. 1, is only $11,000.

2. Failure to furnish such proof, or a release from liability or court verdict of non-liability, will result in suspension of driving license and registration plates of defaulting motorists. The present law provides for suspension of only driving license.

3. Motorists electing to carry insurance, which automatically exempts them from the penalties of this law, must more than double the amount of coverage they now carry.

4. Uninsured motorists who are involved in an accident under the new law must, regardless of fault and even though they pay for the damage already done, furnish proof of future financial responsibility in the amount of $25,000 and maintain it for three years. The penalty for failure to do so is suspension of both license and registration.

Explaining each of those points in some detail, Mr. Larson said that when suspension occurs it also applies to all cars owned by the motorist. "In other words," he declared, "if you fail to comply with the Security requirements of the new law, you will be off the road as owner and operator until you do comply."

Pointing out that carrying insurance is elective and not compulsory, Mr. Larson called attention to the fact that present policies which provide the minimum coverage of only $5,000 for death or injury or one person, $10,000 for death or injury of two or more persons in any one accident, and $1,000 for property damage, will be inadequate beginning Oct. 1 and thus provide no protection against the suspension penalties of the new Financial Responsibility Law.

Under the new law, Mr. Larson emphasized, the minimum coverage required of those who elect insurance as the means of furnishing proof of financial responsibility is $10,000 for death or injury of one person, $20,000 for death or injury of two or more persons in any one accident, and $5,000 for property damage. While again emphasizing that no one is required to carry insurance, he suggested to those who do that they consult their insurance agent or company to be sure that they have the right amounts of coverage to exempt them from the new law.

Mr. Larson described as "very important" the section of the new law that calls for future proof of financial responsibility in the case of uninsured motorists who are involved in accidents under the new statute. Such proof may be furnished, he explained, either in the form of an automobile liability insurance policy providing coverage in the minimum amounts previously explained, totaling $25,000, by posting a surety company bond for $25,000, or by depositing with the State Treasurer $25,000 in collateral. It must be maintained for three years from the date the proof is furnished.

"This law," Mr. Larson concluded, "was enacted to protect everyone, including motorists themselves, against the hardest of all hardships, that of suffering property damage and crippling injuries in an automobile accident, only to find the guilty motorist unable to provide just indemnification. The law gives you, owners and operators, simple means of protecting yourselves against loss of your motorizing privileges. Those who fail to do so, will have no one but themselves to blame if they learn the hard way that they are unable to do business, for the greater safety and security of everyone."

Garden Club Holds First Fall Meet

The Community Club house was the scene Thursday of the first meeting of the Belle Glade Garden Club, featuring a sandwich luncheon, preceding the business session.

Two long tables were lovingly with yellow hibiscus and mums, enlaid fern forming full length centerpiece. Dessert and iced tea were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Lonnie Warren, Mrs. Harry Peters and Mrs. John Robinson.

Mrs. Irvin Zumpf presided over the business meeting. Changes in the constitution and by laws were approved, as well as the programs planned for the coming year.

The group voted to present an honorary membership to Mrs. C. W. McDonald, park supervisor; to adopt the Ixora as the club flower; to donate $25 for expenses of Junior Garden Club and to hold a small flower show in early April.

An announcement was made that club member Mrs. Ivan Van Horn has been appointed Director of District 10 of the Florida Garden Club Federation and also that the district meeting would be held in West Palm Beach on Oct. 21. Mrs. Irvin Zumpf and Mrs. Herbert D. Beck were voted as delegates to the meeting with Mrs. George Farnall and Mrs. Roy Shornte as alternates.

The contest on coffee table arrangements of Ixora was won by first, Mrs. Herbert Beck; second, Mrs. Irvin Zumpf; third, Mrs. George Farnall. The contest on double hibiscus specimens was won by first, Victor Mullberg; second, Mrs. Frank Friend; third, Mrs. Herbert Beck.

Others present were Mrs. D. C. DeHaven, Mrs. J. P. Halbrook, Jr., Mrs. Bryant McLenahan, Mrs. Harold Rich, Mrs. George Royal, Mrs. Richard Hodges, Mrs. C. W. McDonald, Mrs. J. L. Scott and Mrs. Ivan Van Horn.

Pelkas Restaurant Offers Proceeds Of Meals To Pool Fund

Bringing the entire family out to the South Bay Restaurant for dinner on Sunday, Oct. 2, feast on the good Pelka food and at the same time help the swimming pool fund. Mr. and Mrs. Pelka have offered to donate the entire proceeds of all meals served from noon until closing hours on that date at no expense to the swimming pool committee.

This is a most generous offer and should set an example for other civic minded interests in the community.

Reports still are coming in that "We will donate to the fund when we see the pool actually under construction." Well, get prepared to put up or as the old familiar venacular goes, shut up, for pledges are authorized under those circumstances. No actual construction, an invalid pledge! But, that pledge will be good for the swimming pool is going to be built and ready for use by next summer, probably before.

Still no definite date on the Jaycee dance. Let's get this project rolling! And no date re-lapsed on the movie at the Hugo Theatre, as yet.

An announcement was made that the local BPW had won for having the highest percentage of membership attending district meetings in 1954-1955.

POWER OF THE PRESS

(Continued from Page One) quainted with what had taken place. Promptly, action was taken by the balance of the Commission and the lady was notified that she could have the job if she still wanted it. The Commission didn't share the attitude of the Glades member, and he promptly got in line, even to the extent of having the Post-Times run an article Friday morning that he would ask the Commission to appoint the woman he had ill-humoredly turned down previously. The information got to the Post late Thursday night, after printed stories had been issued in the Glades.

The pitiful thing is that a man holding the highest executive office in the hands of any county—County Commissioner—would vent his feeling in such a manner, disregarding the rights of the public and those of the individual. One of the freedoms that still remain with us is that of the Press. The Press in this instance published the facts, and such action can't stand much publicity. The integrity of the group came to our rescue.

The salvation for us in the Glades is that the County Commission exercised its prerogative and protected our interests and Mrs. Jensen's. To them you and I should give thanks. Thanks too, to that Pensacola lawyer who brought about the court decision that county commissioners should be elected county-wide, which caused a change in the handling of cases such as these. The integrity of the group came to our rescue.

TO THE VOTERS OF BELLE GLADE

It is encouraging to me in my first venture into local politics to have received the vote I did in Tuesday's election.

To the winners, I offer my congratulations and assurance of support in whatever they will do towards the betterment of our Community.

Thanks again for your kind reception.

My efforts will be to work with your other commissioners for Belle Glade's betterment and progress.

AGAIN, MY SINCERE THANKS

Radio Station W-GTO, Haines City, appoints Jim Corbett news director and Dale Starkey disc jockey personality.

POPULAR PERSONALITIES JOIN W-GTO STAFF

Florida's newest 10,000 watt radio station, W-GTO in Haines City, has brought two seasoned radio personalities to its broadcasting staff.

Jim Corbett, an experienced radio newsmen, has been named to direct the news department. His background includes newspaper reporting, extensive travel in Europe, and a World War II assignment as a section editor for the FCC's Foreign Broadcast Intelligence Service. In 1952, Corbett won an NARND award for "distinguished over-all news operation" at WFIN, Findlay, Ohio.

W-GTO disc-jockey, Dale Starkey, has a 15-year background of radio, TV, and stage. After Hollywood training, Starkey made appearances on CBS, spent a year as a staff announcer in San Francisco, and two years on KOFI in Reno. An all-around showman, he had his own TV show, "Hello Out There!" in Spokane, Wash.

Corbett and Starkey are heard daily on W-GTO, at 540 kc.

Fund Inaugurated For Operation On Youth

Contributions to a fund which has been launched by two county officials to help defray expenses for an operation for a Lake Worth boy, were rolling in early this week.

The fund was inaugurated by County Commissioner Lake Lytal and Dr. W. E. VanLandingham, county physician, to help John Violante of Lake Worth, and his parents, obtain money needed to finance an ear operation for the youth.

The youngster, according to Commissioner Roy Michael, has spent most of his life in hospitals for treatment of a misshapen ear. All financial resources for further treatment had been expended until Lytal and Dr.

VanLandingham heard of the case and launched their appeal for help.

More than $200 had been contributed a few days after the appeal was made and Lytal said this week that a special bank account had been opened to take care of the money.

Among early contributors was the board of directors of the West Palm Beach Little League. The league directors noted that the youth was of Little League age and that their contribution was made in the hope that Violante some day would be able to take part in the baseball program.

Lytal said anyone wishing to make a contribution to the fund could mail their donations to the county commission office in West Palm Beach.

Holy Land Project Is Favored By Commission

An attempt to revive the Holy Land project which had been planned for construction north of Jupiter, is being pushed by the Palm Beach County commission.

Commissioner Kenneth Foster this week, was named by the board to arrange an early meeting with Martin County commissioners and other interested parties, to discuss the possibility of carrying through with original plans for the project.

Eddie Dowling, New York executive, several months ago had made preliminary plans for construction of the Holy Land attraction. He later gave up the idea when he failed to complete a lease agreement with the state park commission for use of state lands as a site of the project.

Commissioner Lake Lytal asked that Foster be named to arrange the meeting and to advise the Martin County group that the Palm Beach County commission is still vitally interested in the project.

Foster added that Gov. Le-

Hurricanes Attend Military Inspection Of Hurricane Hunters

A full dress inspection was held by "The Hurricane Hunters" for the benefit of "The Hurricane Hunters' Reception Committee" at the Naval Air Station, Jacksonville, Fla., on Wednesday, Aug. 31.

Commander E. L. Foster, USN, Commanding Officer of Airborne Early Warning Squadron Four (VW-4), held a full dress military inspection of the officers and men of VW-4, after which he presented a Navy awards and decorations to those entitled to such. For those crew members who had flown on missions requiring a flight into a hurricane exceeding 100 knots per hour, a special award called the "Century Club" certificate was presented. Those men carrying "Century Club" cards are few and far between, so those receiving them were indeed privileged to belong to this select group of aviation personnel.

The Airborne Early Warning Squadron Four sponsored a special group of young men who were enlisted in the Navy for Aviation training. This company consisted of 45 men enlisted as Airman Recruits and 35 enlisted as High School Airman Recruits. The latter being insured of one of the Navy's many technical aviation trade schools. The Commanding Officer of VW-4 gave a short speech of welcome to the men before he personally administered the Oath of Allegiance, changing their status from that of civilian to a Navyman.

The response of the young men to the enticement of an aviation career exceeded all expectations. Current regulations make it imperative that only a maximum of seventy-seven men may form a company. Since over 90 men desired aviation, a special "Buddy-program," which has been used over and over again by the Navy was utilized to insure that all additional applicants for the company were enlisted the same day for aviation and were also insured that they would remain together as "Buddies" through their recruit training.

The company and the "buddies" left the Naval Air Station aboard two Navy buses, headed back to Jacksonville, where they were to be afforded another treat by having four special cars on the "City of Miami," Atlantic Coast Line streamliner, for their trip to Chicago, the "Windy City." So, "The Hurricane Hunters," from Florida and Southern Georgia took a route that is normally not travelled by either their sponsors "The Hurricane Hunters" or the hurricane hunters that are continually brewing during the present season. From Chicago, the company would leave for Great Lakes Naval Training Center to commence their recruit training with high hopes of someday eventually returning to the birthplace of the company, Hanger 124, Naval Air Station, Jacksonville, Fla.

Conservation Program Reopened For Farmers

All farmers in this County are given an opportunity to request needed cost-sharing assistance for additional conservation work under the Agricultural Conservation Program.

This offer is extended to all farmers, including those who have previously filed requests, as well as farmers who will work in addition to that on which cost sharing has already been approved, and must be on work that is yet to be done, and completed by Dec. 31, 1955.

Those interested in participating in the ACP are urged to make their request as early as possible, but not later than Sept. 30, 1955. Further information may be obtained at the County ASC Office, Agricultural Center, West Palm Beach or Sanders Building, Belle Glade. Offices are open from 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday.

DITHANE M-22

boost tomato yields in three big ways

Newest member of the famous fungicide family, DITHANE M-22 (maneb) has already shown how it helps tomato growers get higher yields—more marketable crates per acre.

DITHANE M-22 boosts yield and quality three ways:

1. It gives outstanding control of late blight and also protects effectively against all the other major tomato diseases—anthracnose, early blight, Septoria leaf spot, gray leaf spot, and gray mold.
2. DITHANE M-22 is safe for blossoms, fruit, and vines when used as recommended.
3. It helps the vines stay healthier, with rich green foliage.

Add these advantages together, and it's easy to see why fields protected with DITHANE M-22 yield more and better tomatoes at picking time. To top it off, DITHANE M-22 is now conveniently packaged in two bag sizes that contain just the right amount of spray powder for any standard tank capacity. It's also available from your local dealer as blended dusts with or without insecticides.

SEE HOW CONVENIENT PACKAGES MEET TANK CAPACITY REQUIREMENTS:

Tank Capacity	Bags of Dithane M-22
200 gallons	one 3 lb. bag
300 gallons	one 4 1/2 lb. bag
400 gallons	two 3 lb. bags
500 gallons	two bags—3 lb. & 4 1/2 lb.

Papers Available On Chemical Weed Control

Copies of technical papers on chemical weed control in cabbage, sweet corn, endive, and lettuce on muck soil by V. L. Guzman and E. A. Wolf, horticulturists at the Everglades Station, are now available at the office of the County Agricultural Agent. These papers, presented to the Eighth Annual Meeting of the Southern Weed Control Conference held last winter in St. Petersburg, summarize results of a large number of experiments carried out by the Everglades Station during the past three years.

With shortage at critical periods and increasing cost of hand labor, Guzman and Wolf feel that chemical weed control has a definite future in vegetable operations in the area and suggest that growers should start getting acquainted with them and trying them on a small scale. Used properly herbicides can be useful tools. Like any tool, however, growers must first learn how to use them. Caution must be exercised for the use of too little will give no control of weeds while too much may produce damage to the crops.

For lettuce and endive, they suggest the use of 8 to 10 pounds of the chemical CIPC—the chemical name is too long—per acre applied as a pre-emergence treatment, that is before the plants emerge from the soil. For cabbage, they suggest 15 pounds of TCA per acre in fields where grass weeds predominate or 10 pounds of Otkone in diesel oil if broad leaf weeds predominate applied after seeding but before emergence of the crop. For sweet corn, 12 pounds per acre of DNOESP (Sinox P-12 or Premer) applied before the crop is up has given excellent results. Information is also presented on post-emergence weeding of cabbage. A promising new method of weed control by delaying seeding until the weeds have started to germinate, then planting and treating is discussed. It is pointed out that pre-emergence weeding works best when the soil surface is moist, and that cool temperatures and good moisture in the upper layer of soil is essential to good control of weeds with CIPC.

GOOD HEALTH-KEEPING

By Jack Mathis

Are you a typical dieter? Is your greatest problem that almost unbearable desire for food? If so, science has an important contribution to make which can help you overcome that "second helping" urge. It's the "calorie table." This table enables you to lose weight and still continue in good health.

Proper understanding of "calorie content" not only makes your dieting easier, but also permits you small indulgences. For example, if you are a person weighing 160 pounds, you must have a daily intake of 2,500 calories to remain at that weight. Anything over that will accumulate pounds. If you eat one doughnut a day in excess of your calorie requirements, you will gain from 8-10 pounds a year. If that doesn't sound like much, remember this, the average adult should gain no more than three-fifths of a pound per year.

True, exercise will prevent calories from becoming unsightly fat, but are you willing to take enough exercise? For example, if you eat an ice cream cone and thereby exceed your requirements by 150 calories, are you willing to wash dishes for two hours and 45 minutes? That's what it would take to keep that cone from turning into fat. It would take two hours and 15 minutes of waving a baton to burn up the calories in an "extra" doughnut. If you're the typical white-collar worker doing mainly mental labor, you will have to work at your desk all day just to burn up the surplus calories in a cup of tea with sugar and cream. If it exceeded your calorie requirements.

Not that coffee or tea will ever make you fat. Any diet permits you to drink these beverages until you splash, but this applies only to black coffee or clear tea. It's the sugar and cream that are taboo. So, if you can't resist your hunger by drinking black coffee or clear tea—go right ahead! You may even have a little milk, if you don't overdo it. A slice of orange in tea is an excellent substitute for sugar and supplies a bit of Vitamin C, also. Soft drinks may be consumed in moderation but they contain sugar, in most cases, so count that sugar in your calorie chart.

One of the oldest arguments against alcoholic drinks as a weight inducer is that you never see a fat alcoholic. That is true—but only because they use alcohol instead of food. Normal persons, to whom alcohol is an occasional accessory to food, must face the fact that alcohol does contain calories and will increase weight.

Here's a calorie table for those who enjoy a drink with their dinner:

	Calories
1 glass Beck beer	135
1 glass beer or ale	110
1 glass of dry wine	42
1 glass of sweet wine	75
1 glass of champagne	115
1 highball, 1 1/2 oz. whisky	120
Any Collins drink	200
1 after dinner brandy	70-75
